The First Saturdays of August, September and October are Diocesan Marian Days which will be hosted at the Basilica of Our Lady, 28 Norfolk Street, Guelph, Ontario,

The Diocesan Marian Shrine schedule will be as follows:

Confessions. 8:30 - 9:45am

Rosary Procession. 11:00am
Lunch 12:00pm — bring your own
Holy Hour with Marian Catechesis 1:00pm

God is a frightening being to many people, transcendent and out of our reach. But Mary helps bridge the gap. She's a creature like us, so even if we don't trust Him completely yet, He knows that we can trust the loving care of a benevolent mother. If we do, that mother will gently lead us back to God, which has been His plan ever since the fall of mankind

And it's lonely...

In the real world, our friends surprise us. We find people who believe the same things we do, but we also find people who believe wildly different things. We become friends for reasons we can't explain. We're so irrational!!

But if God—who has no equal—has befriended us, who are we to place anyone outside the reach of our friendship? If Christianity is a participation in divine life, then grace makes us omni-capable in friendship. We can be friends with the most unlikely people. That's our job, in fact. Tax collectors and sinners—those were the people Jesus hung out with. "Doesn't he know what kind of woman that is?" people whispered behind his back. But Jesus found his friends in the most unlikely places. He didn't make friends with people who were like him. He made friends with people who were different—the people who needed him the most.

Jesus declares his Apostles to be friends—all of them sinners, and one of them even a tax collector. He also declares, repeatedly, that we must do the things he does. He establishes a pattern of evangelism that the Fathers followed. They made unlikely friends, too. Some of them made pagan friends and converted them. And some of them were pagans who made Christian friends and were converted.

That's the Christian pattern of friendship. It starts with the Incarnation. The central event of history is the ultimate act of friendship.

Perhaps the Church Fathers can begin to teach us the cure for our loneliness. After all, the problems of our day are not too different from the problems of their day. Their lives were busy. They lived in an uncertain world of big cities, massive bureaucracies, and constant change. They had big problems. But they found the time for friendship.

No—we shouldn't say they found the time. They made the time. There is one thing all the Fathers agree on: friendship takes work. It's a warning to us: we can't be lazy and expect to have friends. But it's also a message of hope. With God's grace giving us the power of friendship, we can overcome our loneliness. We can be the friends we ought to be and have the friends we want to have. And we can do it because God himself has called us friends... By Mike Aquilina St. Paul's Center

Jesus said to them, "Amen, amen, I say to you, it was not Moses who gave the bread from heaven; my Father gives you the true bread from heaven. For the bread of God is that which comes down from heaven and gives life to the world."

John 6:32-33

Pray this prayer if you wish you loved God More

By John Henry Newman

My Lord, I believe, and know, and feel that you are the Supreme Good. I believe that, beautiful as is your creation, it is of no account, compared with you.

And therefore, since I perceive you to be so beautiful, I love you, and desire to love you more and more.

My God, you know how little I love you.

I would not love you at all, except for your grace.

Keep my whole being fixed on you.

Let me never lose sight of you; and let my love for you grow more and more every day.

ANOTHER WAY OF GIVING... As the new church year approaches, we would like to encourage parishioners to consider E-Offertory, a safe, secure, convenient and flexible way to support our parish. All information is kept confidential and changes can be made quickly and easily. For E-Offertory information, please call the parish office.

We would love to speak with anyone seeking to become more engaged in our church.
