Do not wish to be anything but what you are, and try to be that perfectly. St. Francis de Sales

Today's readings speak of the gifts of prophesy and of casting out demons. If you feel that God is calling you with the gift to be a priest, religious, or permanent deacon, call Fr. Michael King, Director of Vocations, Diocese of Hamilton, 905-528-7988 ext. 2246.

Email: vocations@hamiltondiocese.com or <https://hamiltondiocese.com/vocations>

A faint faith is better then a strong heresy.
St. Thomas More

Have you considered supporting the parish through pre-authorized giving?

This allows you to give to the parish through scheduled monthly transfers from your bank account, and helps ensure regular, dependable contributions to the parish. Security

Most of all, though, pre-authorized giving affords us the opportunity to reorient how we think about giving. Rather than giving from what's left over, this method of giving encourages us to discern a level of Parish support with greater intention. In this way, we respond more fully to the call to "honour the Lord with your wealth, with the first fruits of all your produce." (Proverbs 3, 9-10) For more info. or to enrol, please contact the parish office.

September 26, 2021

It can be difficult, these days, not to become crabby, bitter and divisive. Every day, we receive so much that frightens or angers us, and seems to threaten our very being.

St. Augustine of Hippo observed that humans become what we receive. He had great respect for the power of habit to influence and change us, for the worse or for the better. He saw the goodness and beauty at the core of every person, and the ugliness we are capable of and are frequently marred by. The fundamental antidote, for him, was always the same: receive the sacraments. Become what you receive. He saw that communion is not something we do, make or are capable of; it's something we receive and become. And that "something" is not ugly or nasty, but godly.

So what changes when we receive communion? We do. We are changed in the twinkling of an eye (1 Corinthians 15:52) and we are changed little by little, as water drops on rock carved out Niagara Falls. We are changed, not into something else, but to our true selves. "Be what you see; receive what you are" (Sermon 272 of Augustine).

This is what we are made for: communion with God and each other. Nevertheless, we have trouble getting there, even when we try and more trouble still when we stop trying or head the other way.

This is our real work: communion. It is not a work but a gift. God remains imbued in it all, urging us from within. "From your presence, where can I flee?" (Psalm 139:7). As Augustine observed, we have hope because God is not changeable, but we are. "We shall all be changed" (1 Corinthians 15:51).

In the Eucharist, we receive all that Christ is, completely given, nothing held back. We become what we long to be.

Many voices, now more than ever, are trying to distract and fool us and keep us apart. Keep the focus.
