October 31, 2021

Keeping the faith is hard. Everyone faces doubt, confusion, maybe even frustration regarding their faith. As a young person, it's even harder when your deep sense of community is missing.

I used to argue with God about why, if He wants people to believe in Him, He doesn't just make it easier for us. Why can't He create some miracle, speak to us, something! But over the years I realized that God does speak to us: He is present in the people of faith around us who witness God to others through their lives.

As young people, we are called to bring Christ into our generation and our daily lives. This mission is sacred, very important and, yet incredibly challenging. But we are not alone!

Take the story of 15-year-old Carlo Acutis (1991-2006), he enjoyed gaming with friends, watching Pokémon, playing sports and taking care of his family dogs. From a very young age, he was also enamoured by his Catholic faith.

Deemed "patron saint of the Internet," Acutis dedicated the last years of his life, before dying from leukemia, to composing a database of all the eucharistic miracles from around the world. He created a website to share these incredible true stories with the world (miracolieucaistici.org/en/Liste/list.html).

Acutis has already received the title "Blessed." His body to this day remains incorrupt, as though he were merely sleeping. Several miracles have already been attributed to him. What a great witness to young people today!

Acutis gave us something that can be hard to find: Hope. Hope that there are other youth who share our faith and seek refuge in the continued real presence of God in the world today. We are not alone.

The Eucharist is the food of our soul. It prompts us to go out and be the presence of Christ in the world, in the ordinary. Our faith poses the radical notion: that we are each called to impact the world in our own unique way, and that we are incredibly important. It's easy to forget how great a love and responsibility we hold.

God's love calls us to communion not only with Him, but with the people of the world.

The Chris Stefanick Show which aims to help Catholics understand, live, and share their faith. Watch on Mondays at 7pm. ET November brings many opportunities to pause, reflect and pray. On Nov 1 and 2, we celebrate All Saints Day and All Souls Day – which, traditionally, invite us to reflect on our place in the larger reality of life and death, and to give hope in the eternal life with God. Throughout this month, Catholics remember and pray for their loved ones who have passed away. Whether your loss is more immediate and you are struggling with feelings of grief, loss and hopelessness, or if you are simply commemorating special anniversaries of loved ones who died a while ago.

Book of Life

As a parish, we will highlight this month by preparing our annual "Book of Life" into which we will place the names of our departed family and friends. Due to COVID restrictions you can sign the book using your own pen, or you can submit names by: emailing to: stgreg@rogers.com or placing the names in the collection plate. If using the last two options, I will insure that names are written into the 'Book of Life'.

We have loved Them during life, let us not abandon Them until we have conducted Them by our prayers into the House of the Lord.
