Reflection: Jesus asks, “What does it mean to say yes to God?” Saying “yes” is not the same as doing God’s will.

We may become very good at saying the right things to God without living them. We can say: “I believe in love,” but not love. We can say: “I believe in justice,” but not practice justice. We can say: “I follow Jesus,” but not follow him. True obedience requires action and a humble heart, not just empty religious words.

The vineyard is not a place of words but a place of work. It is a place where faith becomes visible. The first son says “no”, but then changes his mind and heart, and turns around. This shows that there is hope for all of us: Because many of us have also said “no” to God at some point. Maybe we have resisted something God was asking us to do. Maybe we have been afraid or angry. Maybe God called us toward justice, but justice was inconvenient, and we refused. But the good news of this parable is that our first answer does not have to be our final answer. We can change and turn around as grace gives us another opportunity.

Jesus says: “The tax collectors and the prostitutes are going into the kingdom of God ahead of you.” These people whom respectable religious society had pushed to the margins as they were considered sinners and outsiders. But they heard, and they changed direction.

The religious people who thought they already had the right answers were refusing to go into the vineyard. The people we think are far from God may actually be closer to God than we imagine. The people who think they are closest to God may discover that they have stopped listening. It is possible to become so certain we are right that we no longer hear God’s invitation.

God’s invitation comes to us in the present, as the vineyard is the world in which we live. It is our neighborhood, our workplace, our family, our community, and the Earth. Jesus tells us: go feed someone, go stand beside someone who has been pushed aside, go work for justice, go care for creation, go build community, and go tell someone that they are beloved.

Faith must become embodied. Jesus tells us to love God and love our neighbor, which is to feed the hungry, welcome the stranger, care for the vulnerable, make peace, and love our enemies. Faith is action, as God is not simply interested in what we say but in what we do.

It is easy to see the growing presence of evil today, War, crime, the growth in “us versus them”, attacks on religious institutions, the family & the sacredness of human life. The bible refers to the devil by many names: the Accuser, the Scatterer & the father of lies, who seeks to deceive & divide us. We need not be afraid! Jesus’ Resurrection brought victory over evil. With prayer & participation in the Sacraments, we are equipped for the spiritual battles in life. Attend the St. Agnes Education Cafe: “The Many Faces of Evil ~ Wounded by Sin, Saved by the Sacraments” with Fr. Michael King. Sunday Oct., 18th 2-3:30pm, St. Agnes, Waterloo.

40 Days for Life is from Sep. 23 to Nov. 1, 2026.
